

The Operations Audit

A five-minute self-check for coaches & founders. Tick the boxes that are true today — then count what's left empty. Every empty box is a place your business quietly leaks time, energy, and momentum.

01 Your Client Journey

- ☐ A new lead knows exactly what happens next after they reach out.
- ☐ Onboarding runs the same way every time, without you rebuilding it.
- ☐ Clients always know where to find what they need from you.
- ☐ Offboarding leaves a clear ending — and an open door.

02 Your Workflows

- ☐ Your core processes are written down, not just in your head.
- ☐ Recurring work follows a repeatable system, not memory.
- ☐ If you stepped away for a week, things wouldn't stall.
- ☐ You're not the bottleneck for routine decisions.

03 Your Tools & Systems

- ☐ Every tool you pay for has a clear job.
- ☐ Your tools talk to each other — no manual copy-paste between them.
- ☐ You have one "home base" where work lives.
- ☐ You're not paying for tools you stopped using.

04 Your Content & Visibility

- ☐ Showing up consistently doesn't depend on motivation.
- ☐ You have a simple system for what to post and when.
- ☐ Content gets repurposed, not created from scratch each time.

05 Your Time & Capacity

- ☐ Most of your week goes to work only you can do.
- ☐ Admin and operations don't eat your best hours.
- ☐ You can take time off without the business holding its breath.
- ☐ Growth doesn't automatically mean more manual work for you.

Count your empty boxes

0–3 · Solid foundation. Refine the edges.

4–8 · Friction is building. A few systems would free real capacity.

9+ · Your business runs on you, not on structure. Fixable — with the right plan.

"Every empty box is a system waiting to be built."

If you'd like a clear outside perspective on where to start, book a Focused Clarity Session or simply start a conversation. No pressure — just clarity.
